Middle Branch Park was created by Baltimore City in 1977 by consolidating existing shore side parks. Ten years later the Baltimore Rowing and Water Resources Center opened, reviving a tradition of rowing competitions. Conveniently located near the Inner Harbor, Middle Branch Park is known as Baltimore City’s “Natural Waterfront.” The 150-acre park offers a clear view of the City’s skyline.

The Baltimore Rowing and Water Resources Center provides an ideal space for celebrations of all kinds. Our dedicated staff will work with you to determine the best floor plan, and accommodations for your event.
